The child's viewpoint

In every family there are times when parents don't get along. This is natural. But we also know that some parents argue more often or with more aggression.

Below are some things that children sometimes think or feel when their parents have arguments or disagreements.

We would like you to think about how you feel when your parents argue or disagree. There are no right or wrong answers. You should just pick the answer which is best for you.

If you can answer all the questions, that's great. But please do not worry if there are some questions that you can't or find difficult answer. Just answer the questions that you can.

This quiz is for any child to complete.

It is aimed at children aged over 8; however, the questions can be tailored towards children aged under 8.

The purpose of this quiz is to help you understand how the child feels. By combining what you learn through this quiz together with the parental quiz, you'll be able to support the child with the most appropriate action.

In partnership with

How to use this quiz

The child should be asked to complete the quiz by themselves.

You need to support your child as they complete this quiz.

It is important to make sure that the child does not feel pressured to respond to any particular question with any particular answer. This needs to be their honest opinion.

Please avoid the temptation:

- to answer for them
- to influence their response
- to correct or change

You just need to listen to them.

Tips.

Find a period of uninterrupted time and space

Make sure your child is happy to do it - you must not force them

Talk your child through the form - reassure them that they should answer honestly

Give your child space to answer the quiz

Talk to your child about their answers

Combine their responses with your parental quiz

How often they argue

How often do your parents argue or disagree?
A lot	Quite a bit	Sometimes	Never
How often	do you see yo	ur parents arg	guing or disagreeing?
A lot	Quite a bit	Sometimes	Never
How often do you think your parents argue or disagree when you are not with them?
A lot Quite a bit Sometimes Never
How happy do you think your parents are together?
Very happy	Quite happy	A little unhapp	y Very unhappy

What causes the arguments

What do your parents usually argue or disagree about?

You can tick as many as you want

How to discip	line you	Money	Home chores	How to sp	oend time as	a family
Work	How the other parent behaves  Small things, like what's for dinner					r
Family and frie	ends If o	ne parent says	s 'yes', when the oth	ner has told yo	ou 'no'
How much to	spend on birtho	days or presen	ts How to re	eward you	Food and	eating
Playing games	s on electronics	Alcoh	ol, drugs or smokir	ng Feeli	ing tired
Something els	se /rite it here

During the argument

How angry do your parents get when they argue or disagree?

Very angry *	Quite angry	A little angry	Never angry

Do your parents shout a lot when they argue or disagree?

They shout a lot *	They shout a bit	They shout sometimes	They never shout

Do your parents say unkind things to each other when they argue or disagree?

Do your parents ask you to take sides when they argue or disagree?

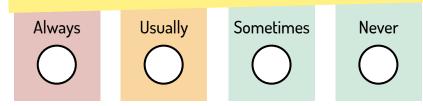

How do you feel when your parents argue or disagree?
Upset	Scared *	Unsafe *	Helpless	Nothing	Something else
Do you do any of these things when your parents argue or disagree?  I feel sorry for one or both of them  I try to comfort one or both of them
I try to be really quiet  I hide and feel scared*  I don't know what to do  Something else
Do you do feel any of these things when your parents argue or disagree?
I feel caught in the middle I feel like they are unset with me I feel like it's my fault None

When your parents argue or disagree, are you afraid something bad will happen?

After the argument

Do your parents stay angry with each other after they argue or disagree?

Yes - a lot	Quite a bit	Sometimes	Never

Do your parents make up right away after they argue or disagree?

Always	Usually	Sometimes	Never

Do your parents agree on what to do after they argue or disagree about something?

What to do next

When you have finished answering the quiz, give the form back to the adult who asked you to fill it in.

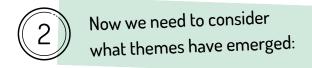

The adult will combine what they have learnt through your answers together with the responses in the parental quiz. Using this knowledge, they will be able to identify an appropriate plan of action by spotting opportunities where they can build on your happiness.

What the results say

Start by counting how many responses were provided in the three core colours (green, orange and red):

List below any orange or red responses:

List orange responses

If there are more than 5 points to add, your child appears to be negatively affected by your relationship

List red responses

If there are more than 3 points to add, your child appears to be negatively affected by your relationship

Urgent areas

If any red responses with an * icon next to them are ticked, please read below to see what you need to do urgently:

- If you are experiencing violence from your partner, call the National Domestic Abuse Helpline for free on 0808 2000 247
- Bromley and Croydon Women's Aid support victims and survivors, and challenge perpetrators to change their behaviour simply call

  020 8313 9303
- If you are being abusive towards your partner, call the Respect Phoneline for perpetrators for free on 0808 8024040

Do you need to talk to someone?

Talk to someone you like

such as a trusted adult, your friends, a teacher or a family member

Call Childline for free on 0800 1111

or visit www.childline.org.uk

Childline provide free and confidential help for young people. You can talk to them about anything. No problem is too big or too small. When you call them, you'll get through to a counsellor, they're there to listen and support you with anything you'd like to talk about. Or you can have a 1-2-1 counsellor chat online.

Visit the Kooth website - www.kooth.com

Kooth is an online mental wellbeing community providing free, safe and anonymous support. You can read help articles, write in your own daily journal, start or join a conversation, or chat to the Kooth team.

Text The Signpost on 07480 635 025

This questionnaire is an amended version of the Parental Conflict Questionnaire put together by the Department of Work and Pensions for a number of local authorities to use. This Bromley version has been created with permission using the questionnaires developed by Brighton and Hove City Council (November 2020).